

SALLY FALKINER

Exploring the world around where she lives in Far Western NSW, Sally enjoys drawing and painting to express the mood and environments of her surrounds and the world at large.

This series of interiors is a response to the uncertainties of the current times and an attempt to lend some "hygge" - a Danish state of being that describes the feeling of coziness you find in a certain place or moment.