

AUDREY KEARNS

Audrey Kearns is an emerging artist based in Hawthorn, Victoria. She grew up in North Carlton, with sojourns in Darwin, Brisbane and Echuca, and recently moved from the outskirts of south-eastern Melbourne where the suburbs meet the bush. Her style is known for using clean lines and colour-blocking to give her artworks a retro edge.

Audrey uses texture and organic shapes to imbue everyday household objects with a life beyond the ordinary. Through the use of bold colour palettes, she forms tonal relationships in her compositions to create still life's filled with bright fruits and delicate natives.

Audrey's external surroundings from childhood until now have informed her artistic practice significantly. Most of her work carries memories from across various landscapes.
